HISTORY - Leddy's Porch offers a unique selection of southern fare and long-standing tradition of southern hospitality. The restaurant is located within the historic Florida House Inn, which remains the oldest continuously operated hotel in the State of Florida. The Inn was built in 1857 by David Yulee to serve as a boarding house for his workers who were attempting to build a railroad from Fernandina to Cedar Key. The railroad was almost complete at the start of the Civil War, however construction was halted and the Inn was then used to house Union soldiers. After the war, the Inn was purchased by Major Leddy and his wife, who ran the Inn and restaurant for many years.
